

CLOUD ENGINEER

Synthetica is looking for an enthusiastic and motivated cloud engineer for a full-time position in Athens, Greece. The individual will join a talented team of young engineers and entrepreneurs and will become one of the building blocks of a fast-paced and constantly expanding company. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to help define the course of many exciting new products for global clients in a variety of verticals.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Architect, design, and implement infrastructure services on GCP
- Work on data processing/storage solutions
- Provide container orchestration services
- Automate testing and deployment with frameworks like CircleCI or other
- Monitor application performance and logging solutions
- Ensure high availability of infrastructure with anomalous behaviour alerting
- Manage cost optimization of cloud solutions
- Coordinate with DevOps Engineers, Backend Engineers and product teams to support end-to-end delivery of software components from development to production

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

- Degree in Computer Science or in relevant field
- 1+ years of working experience in designing, developing, and deploying cloud systems
- Excellent knowledge of Linux
- Excellent knowledge of Git
- Excellent knowledge of Docker

ADDITIONAL QUALIFICATIONS

- Experience with Google Cloud Platform
- Experience with Kafka
- Experience with Kubernetes
- Experience with Continuous Integration Continuous Delivery methodologies
- Being comfortable working in an Agile Development environment